Women on the Fast Track Launches 'Goals Gone Wild' Program

Women on the Fast Track, a national networking organization for business and professional women based in Garden City, has launched a new tool to help today's business women not only set new goals for themselves in 2009 – but achieve these goals with the help of other business women throughout the world.

Beginning December 2008, Women on the Fast Track has set up an online program where women can work to create clear-set goals for the new year and then share them with other business women on the site. This unique program demonstrates how women can truly help each other during challenging economic times.

The Women on the Fast Track "Goals Gone Wild" program is expected to attract hundreds of women worldwide and assist in making their business New Year's Resolutions by setting new goals for 2009. This program will allow women to benefit from the insight, experience and contacts of other businesswomen throughout a wide variety of industries. There is no charge for participation in the "Goals Gone Wild" program.

To participate in "Goals Gone Wild" women should visit www.womenonthe-fasttrack.com/2009_goals_page.htm where they will be prompted to fill in a special "2009 Goals Sheet" template that will be especially important as we move into the upcoming business year.

Every woman's complete set of goals will be posted on the Women on the Fast Track website, where others can review them and see how they may be able to assist. As an additional resource and service for today's businesswomen, anyone who would like assistance in identifying and clarifying their 2009 business goals can call 222-0236 to speak with a Women on the Fast Track member who has experience in helping women develop and reach their goals.

For information about services at Women on the Fast Track, visit www.womenonthe-fasttrack.com or call 222-0236.
